CHALLENGES

With growing business and customer range, their sales and marketing managers were facing issues of proper tracking of each and every activity of their team members. Proper R.O.I. calculation of various online digital marketing campaigns were tough to monitor and analyze. In Such a dynamic environment, a clear presentation of the business health to the management team and investors was a challenge. Weekly and monthly performance monitoring of various categories, brands as well as business team was a bottleneck.

Timely and strategic report on the go, was not possible without the GrowthFactor Sales CRM software solution. We wanted a single window to visualize the complete marketing and sales activity till customer acquisition with detailed strategic reports of all possible business propositions. Investment in making such software was not feasible at our end due to paucity of time and technical knowhow.

“ I highly recommend GrowthFactor CRM as they have stream lined our sales process and as a result there is tremendous improvement in productivity which has resulted in high ROI. Their team is extremely knowledgeable and very supportive. Wish them all the very best.
